

Mohan Yellapantula

Producer
First Element Entertainment

Mohan Yellapantula is a Producer at First Element Entertainment. First Element Entertainment (1EE) is an entertainment company focused on bringing great content to a wide international audience. The company strives to bring what would otherwise be considered non-mainstream content to the mainstream while still maintaining creative integrity. Driven by its talented team of industry professionals, 1EE is paving new paths in entertainment.

Mohan's started his Hollywood entertainment career by first working on First Element's film production "The Art of Power". He has successfully raised private investment/capital for the Art of Power independent film production and has partnered with small businesses and individual investors to raise capital.

Mohan has previously worked with key players of the Bollywood film industry, including talented cinematographers and post-production experts.

Mohan holds a MSME from the University of Louisiana at Lafayette and is a certified PMP with more than 10 years of project management experience in managing automotive and defense product development projects.

