

Terry Hamilton

Sr. Vice President
St. John Providence Health System

Terry Hamilton is the Senior Vice President of Operations for the St. John Providence Health System. Terry has responsibility for system-wide supply chain, laboratory, pharmacy, information technology, biomedical engineering, inpatient imaging, and facilities. He comes to St. John Providence from a sister ministry within Ascension Health, where he led the financial operations for St. Vincent Indianapolis Hospital, Peyton Manning Children's Hospital at St. Vincent, St. Vincent Women's Hospital, and the St. Vincent Stress Center. Terry is no stranger to Detroit, having spent fourteen years with the health care consulting practice at Deloitte, and earning his MBA from the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. Terry holds a BA from Wabash College in Crawfordsville, Indiana. He is married to Debbie and they have two grade-school aged children. The Hamiltons reside in Troy.
