

Wendy Richardson

Facilitator
TechTown

---

Ms. Richardson's areas of expertise include market research, early stage investment and coaching entrepreneurs in all aspects of starting, running and expanding a company.

Wendy has been an independent consultant working with incubator organizations, angel groups and individual companies. She also holds local office and works on political campaigns. Ms. Richardson is a published author in an international journal and is Jonah Certified in Theory of Constraints.

Wendy holds a MBA from Wayne State University and an undergraduate BA from Michigan State University, both degrees with honors. Ms. Richardson sits on several boards as an advisor.

